TO OUR PATRONS:

The compilation of the RELIEF BUSINESS DIRECTORY has been a great pleasure to the publishers. In it we have endeavored to embody the names and addresses of all the San Francisco firms and business men who were, by the great disaster of April 18th, 1906, forced to change their address. We have not tried to include those who were not burned out.

Many firms have not as yet established offices. Others have changed their addresses while the book was on the press. It is our deepest regret that for these reasons every establishment is not listed.

In order to properly take care of future changes of addresses, it is the intention of the publishers to print Supplements to this DIRECTORY as the necessity arises. These Supplements will contain the additions to and the changes in the names and addresses as given in this issue.

In order to lessen the work of getting out these Supplements we request that notice of any change of address be sent to the publishers at 2635 Channing Way, Berkeley.

At this time we want to express our thanks to Smith Bros., of 462 Thirteenth Street, Oakland, who kindly extended the use of office space to the DIRECTORY and the many who came to us for information during the process of compilation.

MARKED THE

of Berkeley's supremacy as a city of homes. Refugees fleeing to her for safety and succor, discovered her charms, her picturesque location, her salubrious climate, her magnificent schools, her cultured and generous people; aliens they came, citizens they remained. Behold! a sea of modest cottages and stately homes.
